Release notes

Changes and bug fixes

1. The interface parsing method for the Remisol analyser has been modified to allow the use of leading zeros in the laboratory numbers.

2. The HL7 request import interface has had a bug fixed that could cause an incoming billing test code to generate duplicate tests.

Customer specific changes

1. The QR request entry interface has been modified such that it now checks each new request and warns if the sample ID matches an existing request. (C)
